三.短文改错

71 (10分) Last Spring Festival, I paid visit to uncle Li in the countryside with my parents. It was not the first time that I had stayed in the countryside, and I still felt excited and interesting.

Different from living in the city, I could always get quite closely to nature, enjoying the bright sunshine and fresh air. But what that amazed me most may be the great changes that have taken places in the local people's life. For example, almost every family own at least one car and Wi-Fi access is available somewhere. Those changes make me felt very proud as a Chinese and inspire me to work harder with a better future of our country.
