附：听力原文

Text 1

M: I can't go to work because I have a sore throat.

W: Let me have a look. Open your mouth. Hmm, your throat is pretty red. Take this kind of medicine, and you'll be all right.

Text 2

M: You're really enjoying the singer very much, aren't you?

W: Yes, I drive to Birmingham from Manchester for her concert. I wouldn't miss it.

M: How did you like that singer from London that was just on? She was a great singer, wasn't she?

W: Yes, she was great.

Text 3

W: Hi, Joe! Did you see the full moon last Wednesday? I went on an outing with my astronomy club to see it. It was amazing.

M: What a pity! I was on a plane for the whole night.

Text 4

W: You should stop smoking cigarettes. They're not good for you. I care about your health.

M: I know I should. I've been smoking for a year. But I decided last week that I should give up. It makes me feel sick. I'll stop in one more day.

Text 5

W: John, can you do me a favor? Can you help me cut this chicken?

M: At your service.

W: Remember to cut off the fat. Your father doesn't like the taste.

Text 6

W: I heard you are going to take a vacation with your family. Is that true?

M: Yes, but we haven't decided where we are going.

W: Why not go to Europe? I went there before. I think it is romantic travelling to different countries by train.

M: My wife has the same view as you. She wants to go there. But my son disagrees with her; he wants to go to Hawaii.

W: What about your opinion?

M: Oh, I want to go backpacking through Mexico in South America.

W: That sounds interesting. But I don't think your wife and son would agree to it.

Text 7

W: I can't wait to go skiing tomorrow.

M: I know. It's going to be so much fun. I go skiing so often that I don't get excited any more.

W: I only go skiing twice a year, so it's a real treat for me.

M: That makes sense.

W: What things make you excited?

M: Whenever I go to Vegas, I get really excited.

W: Oh, that makes me excited too!

M: Looks like anything fun makes you excited.

Text 8

M: Who is your hero, Cora?

W: My hero is my mother. She had to raise three children and do a full-time job. Life was difficult, but she never complained. So who is yours?

M: My hero is my grandmother. She used to teach at a primary school in a poor area. Many children had no lunch to eat there. My grandmother often provided them with food.

W: Your grandmother is really kind-hearted.

M: That's true. And my friend Adam is my hero, too.

W: What makes him your hero?

M: Like my grandmother, he is kind-hearted, too. There are many homeless people in this city, and Adam often gives them a hand. His dream is to improve their life one day.

W: That's really amazing. If we all do what we can to help the homeless, there will be no homeless people in our city. Oh, look. Is that your friend Cathy over there?

M: No. It must be her twin sister Mary.

W: How do you know that? Twins usually look alike.

M: That's because Cathy is travelling in China now. She went there just yesterday.

Text 9

W: What are you reading, Bob?

M: I'm reading today's newspaper.

W: Have you finished your homework?

M: Not yet. I need to write a review of a new movie. But I haven't even seen a movie yet.

W: So are there any good movies on now?

M: I think so. Look, there is a movie called Early Man on now. It says it's a movie suitable for a whole family to watch.

W: Who directed the movie?

M: It's Nick Park. And it's written by Mark Burton and James Higginson. It stars Eddie Redmayne, Tom Hiddleston, and Maisie Williams.

W: When will the movie start tonight?

M: At half past seven. And it'll last one and a half hours. Can we go and watch it tonight?

W: OK. I'll call your father to ask him to come back earlier this evening. In this way we can go to the cinema together after supper.

M: That's great! Thanks, Mom.

Text 10

W: Well, I'd love to share with you my personal opinions on city life and life in small towns. I grew up in a small town until I was 18 and then moved to a big city, so I have experienced the good and bad sides of both.

I never thought that I would like living in a big city, but I was wrong. After ten years of living in one, I can't imagine ever living in a small town again. Surely small towns and big cities both have some problems in terms of transport. In a small town, you have to own a car to make life comfortable. You can't get around without one because there isn't any kind of public transport. Big cities generally have heavy traffic and expensive parking, but there you have a choice of taking public transport, which is cheaper than driving. So, if you don't have a car, you'd better live in the city. I also love the exciting life in big cities. I can always enjoy a lot of films, concerts, and other wonderful shows. However, these things are not common in small towns. The final thing I like about large cities is that you can meet different kinds of people. However, you seldom find such a variety of people in a smaller town. I think that living in an area where everyone was just like me would quickly become bored. Of course, safety should be considered, and that's one area where small towns are better than big cities. Still, I would rather be a bit more careful and live in a large city than to feel safe but bored.
